Q: Binary Search: Cannot convert from 'System.Type' to 'System.Collections.Generic.IEnumerable' I'm creating a binary search function. It does not seem to find the data as I cannot convert System.Type to System.Collections.Generic.IEnumerable. In the function, the * * indicates a segment of the method that does not match my problem. The rest of the function looks like this:

public static int BinarySearch(int[] list, T item, Func value) { int top = list.Length - 1; int bottom = -1; int middle = 0; while (top >= bottom) { middle = (top + bottom) / 2; if (list[middle].CompareTo(item) > 0) { bottom = middle - 1; } else { top = middle + 1; } } return value(list[middle]); }

 The error is this: Cannot convert from 'System.Type' to 'System.Collections.Generic.IEnumerable'. A: If you want to pass a generic function as `2d92ce491b`
