Why Use Photoshop Elements? Designer and graphic artist need to recreate images and use Photoshop to do that. They may need to create a new image of a 3D model or insert a watermark or a logo on an existing image to use it in a web page. These are two examples of how Photoshop Elements can be useful. Before we dive into the Photoshop Elements CS6 features, let's see why Photoshop Elements is a good choice for these two types of tasks. Exploring the Photoshop Elements Interface When you open Photoshop Elements for the first time, you will have a window with the following interface. You are going to use the toolbox on the left side to access the Photoshop Elements features. Don't worry if you don't know where all the tools are. You can navigate to any toolbox item by clicking on it. This will add an outline to the item. You can also click on the icon of the item to select a toolbox item. Click on an item in the toolbox to access its options. You can change the size of the toolbox by adjusting the width and the height of the toolbox area. Before you click on an image, Photoshop Elements should give you a warning that it's a graphics editor and not an image editor. The way you'll use Photoshop Elements is similar to other design programs. You'll use the tools to crop an image, make it editable, and add text to it. If you're going to edit the image, you may need a preview window to see how the image will look. A preview window can be used for many purposes: For example, you might be manipulating an image and you need to know the image size before you crop it. You could crop the image in the preview and then double-click on the image to crop it. The preview will open automatically. Or you might be using the image as a graphic for a web page or to insert it into another image. In that case, you should know the image size before you crop it. You can always move the image around the preview window. Adobe Photoshop Elements CS6 Interface While Photoshop Elements for CS6 is a similar program to Photoshop CS6, it has some differences. You can access the brush tool by pressing a button that resembles the end of a paintbrush. The button's color is also black. After you select the 388ed7b0c7

Q: TypeError: Cannot read property 'status' of null In ReactJS, I'm using this code for loading data from a REST API. `class Blog extends React.Component { getStatus(event) { return this.props.getBlogStatus(event.queryParams.blogID); } componentDidMount() { fetch('+this.props.blogID, { method: 'GET', headers: { 'Content-Type': 'application/json' }, }).then(response => response.json()) .then(status => this.setState({status})) .catch(error => alert(error)) } render() { return (Status is: {this.getStatus()}); } }` However, I'm getting an error, saying `TypeError: Cannot read property 'status' of null` What's the reason for this? A: The code you have posted is not the complete component, please re-read the code or use npm link to link to the updated code if you have it. The complete code is: `class Blog extends React.Component { state = { status: null } getStatus(event) {`

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — Gov. Dannel P. Malloy has pardoned Harold Shipman, the former physician convicted in the 1988 killing of 13 people in southern England. The Associated Press and other news outlets reported Saturday that Malloy granted the mercy to Shipman. Shipman, who was found guilty of murdering patients in Britain, eventually confessed to killing 215 people in England and Wales, including the bodies of his wife and children. The 70-year-old Shipman is scheduled to begin serving his life sentence in December. He could be paroled as early as September. Shipman was found guilty of killing three patients in Britain and five in Oxford, where he was a family doctor. Video: Chick-fil-A Got to say, that jukebox at Chick-fil-A just might be the coolest thing I've ever seen. I'm no music buff by any stretch, but I think I prefer this to the green/black (at least with the chick on it) ones that some of the other franchises have, and I've seen plenty of those in the past. Yeah, I know...I'm weird, but hey, I feel like this one kinda fits the theme and all. Thanks for the comment, Jeff! Jeff (brian), I know what you mean about the jukebox thing, but there's a reason for it. I think it's cool, and I'm about to get sick of hearing people say it's too cool. I like the video. I gotta ask, how many people are viewing this on YouTube? I know a few people who are vlogging, but I'm not familiar with doing such a thing on YouTube.
